BELOVED CITIZEN LAID TO REST

A Legion Of Friends Unite In Paying High Tribute To Late Miss M. M. Woolverton Who Passed Away Suddenly On Sunday Last

A truly beloved and gracious citizen whose beneficent efforts on behalf of her fellow men in every worth-while endeavor will constitute a lasting monument to her memory, suddenly passed from this life on Sunday evening last in the death of Miss Mary Mahop (Nina) Woolverton who succumbed to a heart attack at her home on Mountain Street.

Funeral On Wednesday
The genuine affection in which she was held was strikingly attested by widespread expressions of regret and by the throngs of citizens of the town and district who gathered in St. Andrew's Anglican Church, Grimsby, on Wednesday afternoon to pay a last tribute to one who commanded their respect and affection in a signal degree and whose loss will be profoundly felt in the community and beyond.

The casket which rested in the chance of the edifice was draped with a purple pall sent by the Dominion Diocesan Board of the Women's Auxiliary, Toronto, while beside the casket lay a beautiful cross of yellow roses and chrysanthemums from the Niagara Diocesan, W. A.

The wealth of beautiful flowers sent by friends constituted an affectionate tribute to an eminently worthy citizen. In a feeling tribute to the late Miss Woolverton, Rev. J. A. Ballard, the rector, made reference to the unique regard in which she was held and the characteristic devotion with which she fulfilled the tasks she undertook in church and community. Many, he said, had been cheered by her sympathetic understanding and numerous hearts have been saddened by her passing. Rev. C. H. Boulton, rector of Lake Lodge School, assisted in the service.

Interment was made in the adjoining churchyard.

The pall bearers who were chosen of the late Miss Woolverton were: Robert Nelson, Grimsby; Robert Nelson, Thorold; Harold Woolverton; Charles Manson, Grimsby; and Mary Grant, Port Colborne.

Sketch Of Her Life

Miss Woolverton who was a daughter of the late Theodor Woolverton, medical director of the United States navy, was born in Grimsby 62 years ago where she had resided all her life. Widely travelled both on this continent and in Europe, Miss Woolverton was deeply interested in music, art and literature, possessing a gifted and cultivated mind.

Miss Woolverton was also widely known through her activities in connection with the Anglican Church. She was for many years prominently associated with the Niagara Diocesan Women's Auxiliary having been formerly secretary-treasurer of the education department where her extensive knowledge and writing ability was of use in preparing missionary study outlines. She was a life member of the Women's Auxiliary, but relinquished this post and its arduous duties on account of ill health a few years ago. However, as a member of the education department continued. She was also a devoted member of the Grimsby W. A.

Miss Woolverton was an enthusiastic member of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire. She named the Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, L.O.E. and was its first honorary regent. She had always been a member of the literary committee of the chapter.

Here was a winning and lovable personality. She was broad, tolerant.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Robert H. Moxley and Miss Isabel Moxley desire to express their sincere gratitude to neighbors on Robinson St. South and their many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy in their recent bereavement and to acknowledge the beautiful floral tributes received.

The councils of both the town of Grimsby and township of North Grimsby will hold their final meetings of the year on Thursday next, December 15th.

Survey Shows No. 20 Highway More Heavily Travelled Than No. 8

A survey of traffic made last week on King's Highway No. 8 and the newly opened No. 20 Highway, showed the new road is more heavily travelled than the old highway through Grimsby. Refreshment stand operators on No. 8 Highway say business last summer was slim, and business men are wondering what the situation will be next year when tourists use the new road.

CADET CORPS WAS INSPECTED

Officers of Military District Visit Lake Lodge School—Highly Complimented By Inspecting Party

An inspection of the Naval Cadet Corps of Lake Lodge School was held on the school grounds on Tuesday afternoon. The members of the inspecting party included high officers of Military District No. 2, and the performance of the Cadets elicited many favorable comments.

In the absence of General Ashton, O. C. of the district who was not well enough to attend, Col. Hertzberg, was the inspecting officer, being accompanied by Col. Claude Hill, Col. McCrimmon and Col. Armand Smith. After the march past the members of the cadet Corps were put through their exercises in physical training and in small arms drill by Lieutenant Haworth R. N. of the Lake Lodge staff, the efficiency and smart appearance of the cadets making a very favorable impression. Following the inspection Col. Hertzberg expressed his pleasure with the turnout particularly with the physical training exercises.

The inspecting party and others present were afterwards entertained at the school by Mrs. Boulton and Mrs. Graves.

Late Captain Moxley Buried With Military And Masonic Honors

Citizens in large numbers gathered at the home of the late Captain Robert H. Moxley of the 90th Battalion, C. E. F., on Saturday afternoon when the funeral took place. In the gathering were many members of the West Lincoln Branch, Canadian Legion and of the Masonic Order who attended in a body, burial taking place with military and masonic honors.

Rev. E. A. Eastman, pastor of Trinity United Church, officiated at the services at the home and grave. The firing party and buglers were furnished by E. Company of the L. and W. Regiment. Honorary pall bearers were all officers of the 90th Overseas Battalion. The active pall bearers were sergeants of the L. and W. Regiment from Niagara Falls.

W. G. Cowan, worshipful master of Union Lodge, No. 7 conducted the

THE LATE CAPTAIN R. H. MOXLEY

Masonic service at the grave, being assisted by Wm. Mrs. David Allen. Interment was made in the Soldiers' plot in Queen's Lawn Cemetery.

Among those in attendance were Mr. Fred Moxley, Mrs. A. S. Duncan and Mrs. G. M. Godden, of Kingston, brother and sisters of the late Mr. Moxley.

MAYOR ANNOUNCES HIS RETIREMENT

Definitely Intimates He Will Not Be Candidate For Further Municipal Honors—Has Given Efficient And Devoted Service

Mr. A. G. Boulton, who has filled the position of Mayor of the town for the last two years and who has been a member of the council for the past four years, intimated, when interviewed by The Independent, that it was his intention to retire from the Municipal arena this year.

"In withdrawing from all municipal honors at the end of the year I wish to thank the people of Grimsby for their splendid support and the confidence they have placed in me the last four years," said Mayor Boulton. "I also desire to thank my associates on the town council during my occupancy of the Mayor's chair for the much appreciated support they have given me and the respect they have shown me while an occupant of the office, as well as to express my appreciation of the support given by members of the Water Commission, the Fire and Police Department, the Board of Health and the Press, all having co-operated with the council in their efforts to promote the interests of the town of Grimsby. Every department of the public service has worked harmoniously together for the betterment of the town.

"During the period in which I have been Mayor of the town, following the completion of the sewerage system, I strongly opposed placing any further debt on the municipal treasury. The council also strongly supported action looking towards the replacing of an unprofitable tenant in the arena and the disposing of it to the Niagara Packers Limited which has resulted in the employment of upwards of one hundred hands during the fruit season with resulting benefit to the town and community. The arena now will no doubt become a great centre for a fruit market and a place which will doubtless employ an increased number of hands, both men and women, in the future.

"The past two years also saw the completion of the west end block of sewers.

"Strong support was given by the Reeve and council in co-operating with the Port Dalhousie council in securing the county road rebate in which we were successful, resulting in the payment to the town of Grimsby of a substantial amount which had been due since 1925. The funds available enabled the council to pave Depot Street which undertaking was carried through last year.

"Our books have also been cleared of a lot of unpaid taxes by selling lots on which taxes were long overdue, putting the town in a better position in this respect also."

Mayor Boulton, prior to becoming a member of the Grimsby town council, had had previous municipal experience in South Grimsby township where he served on the council for nine years, coming to Grimsby in the fall of 1921. Four years ago he was elected a

COUNCILLORS LIKELY TO STAND

New Member Needed With Retirement of Mayor—Three Mentioned For Reeveship

With the approach of the date of the annual elections of the town of Grimsby which will be held on Monday, December 28th, much interest is being manifested in the probable personnel of the incoming council.

The announced retirement of Mayor Boulton will mean the addition of at least one new member to the council, it being likely that all the other members of this year's council will stand for re-election.

Reeve Wilkins who has occupied that office for the past three years, previous to which he held the position of deputy reeve for a year and councillor for two years, is the logical successor to Mayor Boulton. He has announced his retirement from the reeveship and his friends hope to prevail upon him to accept the nomination for the Mayoralty.

With the elevation of Reeve Wilkins this will leave a vacancy in the reeveship and three names have been prominently mentioned for the office, Councillors, W. Lethian, R. H. Lewis and H. G. Mogg. None of these gentlemen has announced his candidature for the reeveship. It is understood, however, that they will again be in the field for council.

Councillors A. B. Bourne and Watson McPherson are also willing to serve the town in the council if it is the desire of the electors that they do so. Councillor Merritt has not yet intimated his intentions.

The term of Ex-Mayor Hewson on the water commission expires this year. He intimated to the Independent his willingness to continue to serve on that body of which he is the chairman. His qualifications and fitness for the position are generally acknowledged, he having given most efficient and devoted service to the town as a member of the commission. He has acquired an intimate knowledge of the aquatic which makes him an invaluable member of that body. His fellow citizens will be glad to learn that he is again willing to serve on that body.

The members of the Board of Education whose terms of office expire this year are: Dr. Clark, Wallace Bremley and R. T. Theat. The term is a two year one.

DOMINION CAFE WAS ROBBED

Stock Valued at $140 Taken—Also Cash in Register—Police Investigating

Stock valued at $140 and $5.00 in small change was stolen from the Dominion Cafe, Main Street, Grimsby, sometime after 2:30 o'clock on Saturday morning last following the closing of the restaurant for the night. The stock taken consisted of cigars and cigarettes, and some tobacco besides the small change found in the cash register. Two table cloths were also taken.

Entrance was gained by the burglars through the rear of the store, holes having been bored with a brace and bit in both storm and inner doors to unlock them. No noise was heard by the proprietor who sleeps upstairs.

The robbers are thought to be members of a gang which has been operating at Freeman and Oakville, states Chief Demill. Local and provincial police are investigating the theft.

Appreciative Audience Heard English Comedy A Clever Performance

An appreciative audience was kept in high good humor throughout the entire performance on Friday evening in Trinity Hall when the English Comedy "Chintz Cottage" was given by the Wilmersham Dramatic Club of Toronto, under the auspices of the Grimsby Horticultural Society.

The play was full of action and amusing surprises and the players kept the audience in constant mirth as they cleverly unfolded the plot.

Miss Flora Allen sang two pleasing numbers during the intermissions between acts. Miss Marie Cullingford acting as accompanist, the latter also very acceptably playing a number of piano selections.

WILL NOT STAND FOR REEVESHIP

P. E. Wilkins To Relinquish Position—Being Urged to Stand For Mayor—An Able And Zealous Representative

Reeve P. E. Wilkins, queried by The Independent as to his intentions in the municipal field where he has served the town of Grimsby since 1928, said he was retiring from the reeveship which he has held for the past three years but added that he had not as yet come to a decision as to whether he would be a candidate for the office of Mayor. In view of the announced retirement of Mayor Boulton, he, as the holder of the next highest office in the gift of the citizens, is being urged by his friends to stand for the position.

Mr. Wilkins, referring to his association with the various councils while in office, said:

"I have served under Mayor Boulton and ex-Mayor Hewson and have nothing but the best to say of both these occupants of that high office, as well as of the councillors with whom I have been associated. They have given me every support in my efforts on behalf of the community both in the town council and the county council and it has been a pleasure to work with them. The councils of the past few years, under the guidance of Mayor Boulton and Ex-Mayor Hewson have accomplished worth-while things for Grimsby.

"It was while I was chairman of the Cemetery Committee in 1927 that the Perpetual Care Plan in connection with Queen's Lawn cemetery was inaugurated and carried through and to-day we have a cemetery in which we can well take pride. Under the new system we have accumulated a reserve fund of between $4,000 and $5,000, the funds from the sale of lots being placed in a special account and the interest only is utilized for the upkeep of the property. Previously the outlay was taken care of through the general tax levy. I am pleased to say that under the new plan the cemetery is now practically self-maintaining.

"Other undertakings which have been carried through have been the closing of all the streets of the town rather than a part of them, the sale this year of the arena to Niagara Packers Limited, the acquisition of which has enabled that promising industry to greatly enlarge and extend its operations to the decided advantage of the town and fruit growers in the district, and the paving of Depot St. made possible through the securing of the county road rebate, this paved roadway which connects with the highway system, being of particular benefit to fruit growers of the community who have occasion to use this much travelled road. The paving of the road has also effected a saving of from $500 to $700 in upkeep which previously had to be expended for repairs.

"During my term of office I, as reeve, was closely associated with the efforts made to secure the rescinding of the Hospital by-law which had been in effect in the county under which the town was obliged to pay a large proportion of hospital expenses in connection with indigent patients. Under the present plan the county

Securing Figures On Grape Industry

T. J. Mahony, M.L.A., stated this week that he was securing information in regard to what extent wineries had paid growers less than the $40 per ton for their grape crop as had been alleged, that being the price agreed upon between the wineries, liquor control board and growers.

Mr. Mahony said many wineries he knew had promptly paid the agreed price, but it had been reported to him that others had not done so and when he had secured the necessary facts he intended to take the matter up with the government in Toronto.

It is understood that Niagara peninsula grape growers' association intend to hold meetings of all groups in the peninsula immediately for the securing of affidavits from those members who sold this year's crops to wineries at prices lower than $40 per ton. When these are secured it is stated that some form of action against those wineries which did not pay the agreed upon price will be taken.

Oddfellows Dance Was Big Success

A dance held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows Wednesday evening turned out to be a real success. The dance orchestra under the able leadership of Mr. Nelson Jacobs gave the dancers an enjoyable programme. So well were they received by over fifty couples that the committee was requested by the dancers to have the same orchestra back here at an early date. The committee decided to do so and announced another dance would be held in two weeks time namely Wednesday, Dec. 21st. Floor management was in the capable hands of Mr. Southward, who so kindly assisted the committee. At no time did he have any difficulty in getting the couples on the floor.

Half way through the programme a delightful lunch was served and every one was well taken care of at the tables.

Grimsby has long looked to the Oddfellows to give them a programme of entertainment and last night's dance was no exception.

The committee feel sure that by doing so they will have the whole-hearted support of the residents of Grimsby and surrounding district.

It is also the intention of the Oddfellows to hold their annual New Year dance and to have a favorite orchestra at that time to welcome you around the corner to prosperity as well as in mind the dance in two weeks time and the annual New Year dance. The committee wish to thank their friends for past support and hope they will get the same support in future.

Warden H. D. Glover Reeve of Saltfleet Not A Candidate

The race for the reeveship of Saltfleet was thrown wide open with the announcement by Warden H. D. Glover that he would not be a candidate for office this year.

Mr. Glover has served in the township and county official life for eight years, but owing to press of business, is forced to withdraw from further activity.

REEVE TO RETIRE

WARDEN H. D. GLOVER

Head of the Westmeath council and reeve of Saltfleet, who has announced he will retire from municipal politics at the end of the year in order to devote his time to the work of the Ontario agricultural council, of which he is president and other provincial committees in the interest of farming.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET

United Church Men's Club Holds Highly Successful Event—Headmaster of Ridley College, Guest Speaker

Fathers and sons to the number of upwards of one hundred gathered around the festive board in Trinity Hall on Tuesday evening on the occasion of the annual Father and Son banquet held by the Men's Club of Trinity United Church. A happy feeling of good fellowship prevailed and a program of unusual interest was provided.

C. P. Brown, president of the club, who presided, extended a cordial welcome to the large number of young lads present.

The speaker of the evening who was introduced by C. S. Bean, was H. C. Griffiths, headmaster of Ridley College, St. Catharines, a preparatory school for boys where close to two hundred lads are in attendance. A stirring and most appropriate address he stressed some of the ordinary realities in the lives of boys and young men. He declared that this was not a time for posturism and urged his hearers to get away from fear.

He expressed the view that some had lost the idea of the dignity of work and said he would rather see a first class mechanic than a poor doctor. Any job if honest is a worth while job provided the boy or young man is happy at it and if we don't get happiness we don't get much worth while, he declared. He admonished the boys never to despise a job because it is lowly. It was dignified as long as you made it so. The speaker said he believed the average boy had deep religious convictions but parents shouldn't expect them to give voice to their convictions. He emphasized that the church was a good place to bring them up in.

Mr. Griffiths defined character as "that which we are given away."

He stressed the value of money which should be looked upon as a trust, and also the important place which education occupies, the process of learning going on all through life. Dearest, he said, were not worth anything if they did not mean work. Success, he emphasized, was not necessarily the amassing of money. Success was simply the achievement of an object. With a youth alive to his opportunities, faithful to his duties, intent on carrying out his ideals and ideas, nothing could keep him from achieving, said the speaker.

At the conclusion of the address, R. J. Muir moved a vote of thanks to the speaker which was heartily endorsed by the meeting.

Prior to the address the toast to the sons was honored, being ably proposed by Mayor Boulton and happily responded to by William Greenwood.

An added feature of the evening were contributions to the program by John Booth, a student at McMaster University, who is a member of the International Brotherhood of Magicians. His slight of hand tricks and feats of Magic were followed with the keenest interest and constituted a clever performance.

Mr. T. L. Dymond contributed several excellent piano numbers.

Mr. C. D. Millard led in the community singing with Kenneth Baxter at the piano.

United Church Ladies' Aid Holds Its Annual Meeting

The Ladies' Aid Society of Trinity United Church held its annual meeting in Trinity Hall, on Tuesday afternoon when the reports presented indicated the organization to have been most active during the year, substantial amounts having been raised for various purposes.

The organization will in future be known as The Women's Association of Trinity United Church.

Moral For Motorists

There is a bit of a moral for all motorists in the story of the Texas who wanted to inspect the scene of a fatal traffic accident the other day. A car had gone off the road on a mountain highway, killing its driver, so this Texas drove out to see, and got so interested looking at things that he lost control of his own machine—and it, too, went off the road and down into a ravine, killing the driver. The moral, of course, is self-evident; never get so interested in the sights around you that you forget to watch where you are driving. But that is a fault fairly easy for a motorist to lapse into. All of us have been guilty of it at one time or another. Usually we come through it all right. But we might as well remember that it can be a horribly costly little error.

Other People's Opinions

It is not always easy to decide how much attention we should pay to other people's opinions. It is a difficult course to steer, sometimes, between a slavish bowing to the opinions of those around us and a wrong indifference to such opinion. There is a wholesome middle course to follow; not a middle-of-the-road policy which has no convictions, but a fearless combination of rightful indifference on the one hand and sane consciousness on the other.—Toronto Globe.

Newspaper in Every Home

The extent to which newspapers are read in Canada has been illustrated afresh in figures announced at the annual meeting of the Association of Canadian Advertisers. It was announced that two and a quarter million copies of newspapers are sold every day in Canada. "This means," it was explained, "that every second family in the Dominion is receiving its daily paper." This is an impressive showing, and indicates that even in these present very trying years people are loath to give up their daily paper. On this count at least the daily newspaper is the most widely read of all publications. It is an indispensable part of virtually every family's daily life.—Regina Leader-Post.

Come Again!

A California newspaper says: "Canadian ports are frozen for a good portion of the winter and wheat cannot leave these ports." This is a very old story.—Halifax Herald.

A Matter of Opinion

If you see a woman wearing something nowadays, and the last thing on earth it looks like is a woman's hat, you can bet your life it is a woman's hat.—Ottawa Journal.

Twice-Written Work

The death of the Detroit author, Will Livingston Comfort, recalls the fact that he had to write his most successful book, "Montezuma Rides Alone," twice. He labored at it for months while his family almost starved, and when on the way to the publishers, he lost the manuscript and it was never found. He had to duplicate copy, and although physically exhausted, he set his teeth and wrote the book over again. Other authors have performed much greater feats. Thomas Carlyle, whose "French Revolution" is one of the most stupendous volumes ever penned, involving the assembling of an immense amount of historical data, also wrote it twice. He loaned the first copy to a friend, and it transpired some weeks later that a maid had seen the manuscript on the table, and not realizing what it was, had used the pages every morning to light the fire of the house. Carlyle wrote it all over again. "Laurence of Arabia" is another who had the same experience. He wrote his famous book on the Arab campaign, numbering 200,000 words, and one day a thief stole the bag containing the complete manuscript at a railway station. So Laurence re-wrote the whole opus.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Carbon Monoxide Bangers

A season of danger to motor car owners is on, that wherein garage doors and windows are closed against the cold and there is temptation to start the motor under such restricted ventilation. Particularly there are many motorists who know nothing of carbon-monoxide gas, and would be astounded to learn that the exhaust from the motor may contain one of the most deadly and quick-acting gases known.—Welland-Fort Colborne Tribune.

Australia Mining Handover

It is spring time in Australia now, and the winter has been a sharp one, but the crops promise to be bountiful, and it is anticipated that the winter will be larger and better than for some years past. There has been an abundant rainfall, with correspondingly abundant food. The wheat provided by the land for recreation has been the farmers, who are now looking for an upward trend in produce prices.—Montreal Daily Star.

THE EMPIRE

A Fair Deal for the Farmer

With the proper organization of and security for the agricultural producers there is room for a million or more of the urban unemployed in the fields which they or their near relatives but recently quit. But proper organization and effective security are vital, and both these will be fruitless unless the producer is assured of a fair deal.—London Daily Telegraph.

Retrenchment in the Colonies

Whatever hardships the future holds in store for officers in Malaya they will follow on the heels of similar sacrifices which have been borne by officers in other administrations of the Colonial service for some time past. Moreover, this Colony is one of those where an income tax does not operate and, so far as we are permitted to know official intentions, is not contemplated. The fact may help Government officials here to face future financial sacrifices with rather greater equanimity than might otherwise be the case. It's a hard life, but it might as well be harder.—Singapore Free Press.

World Problems

The return of prosperity to Britain, and all other countries, depends first and foremost on the achievement of some international agreement to relieve the burden and the increase armaments, to remove the locusts which have thrown the currencies of half the world into the melting pot, and to cut the bonds which strangle international trade.—Economist (London).

Quality and Quantity

The Americanization of industry in Europe has clearly not been a success. High tariff protection, rationalization, and mass-production are of no use to skilled people. They are remarkable results in the United States because of its vast internal market, its undeveloped resources, its continuous supply of cheap immigrant labour, its self-sufficiency in raw materials. Even in the United States the limit of the benefits to be obtained from rationalization and mass-production seems to have been reached, and indeed overpassed. There never were any benefits for Europe in turning from craftsmanship to mass-production; and to craftsmanship Europe should return.—Prof. R. B. Merritt, The Contemporary Review (London).

AMERICAN

League and Japan

The League of Nations is in a rather tight place. It can't go to withdraw its control from Manchuria for the Japanese would simply refuse and the League would have no means of enforcing its order. No nation or group of nations is ready to go to war with Japan over Manchuria at this time. No nation is willing to break off diplomatic relations with Japan. Even the aggrieved Chinese have not done so.—Philadelphia Ledger.

British Imports From Canada Up

Nine Months' Period Shows Marked Increase in Volume

Ottawa.—British imports from Canada during the nine months ending September totalled in value $28,762,644, compared with $22,093,326 in the same period last year and $25,044,306 in the same period of 1930. On a volume basis this is a very large increase over 1930. The larger items, totaling two-thirds of the whole, have increased in volume about 60 per cent., says a report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

British imports from Empire countries during the first nine months of 1932 amounted in value to $183,412,621, compared with $180,985,206 in the same period last year.

British imports from foreign countries in the nine months totalled in value $336,902,705, compared with $440,404,655 in the same period of 1931.

Heavy British imports in October of canned salmon from Russia and the United States, 145,000 cwt. from the former and 102,315 cwt. from the latter, against 17,799 cwt. from Canada, put the Dominion in third place in the exports of that commodity during the first ten months of 1932. The totals for the ten months were: United States, 174,594 cwt.; Russia, 145,000; Canada, 123,018.

Out of a total of 1,316 cwt. of lobster imports by Great Britain in October 1932, 101 were Canadian. During the ten months of the present year the total was 22,426 cwt. of which 21,161 cwt. were Canadian.

ON THE BILL

An actor complained to the producer about the size of his name in the advertisement.

"Oh," groaned the actor. "I know I'm not a star, but I do think my name should be featured. Why don't you mention the name of the show plus the principals, and then before my name put 'And—'?"

"And—" cried the fed-up producer. "Why not 'But'?"

Two Canadian Freighters Fight Gales and Fog On Great Lakes

Crew of S.S. Georgian Taken off Near Wunising — Steamer Novadoc Hits on Frontenac Shoals

Toronto, Dec. 5.—Two Canadian freighters, caught in a storm of late Autumn navigation on the Great Lakes, are slowly tilting toward Davy Jones' Locker to-day.

Aground on the rocks near Manitowish, Mich., the S.S. Georgian is breaking up under the pounding of huge seas and a 50-mile northwest gale. Her crew of 20 has been rescued.

Far down at the other end of the Great Lakes the S.S. Novadoc, with a crew of 21, including two women, is fast on Frontenac Shoals in Alexandria Bay, New York, listing heavily and taking much water.

Related Great Lakes steamers were, all day yesterday, battling heavy gales to make their home ports.

Storm signals were flying everywhere on Monday, one of the heaviest blows of the Fall made progress slow for the comparatively small up-bound and down-bound traffic.

A 50-mile northwest gale played such havoc with the stranded Georgian that it's salvage tug Maplecourt, out from Sault Ste. Marie, was forced to take off the Georgian's crew for safety.

A collier dog, Barney, owned by Captain Dahl Hudson, which refused to leave the boat Saturday night, was removed forcibly to-day. As soon as it reached the dock, it jumped from the coast guard boat and disappeared.

The Georgian, owned by the Northwest Transportation Company, went further on the rocks by the rising sea and storm and is expected to be a total loss. The U.S. coast-guard steamer Seminole, which has been standing by the grounded vessel, was forced, by yesterday's gale, to seek shelter in Muskegon Harbor.

The other freighter, the Novadoc, struck hard in a fog. She is in command of Captain W. Beatty, Toronto, and broke ice for 100 yards in Lake St. Clair to get aid for her brother, Ernest, marooned on a wooden motorboat.

May weather prevented their plight from being seen from the shore. The water was up to Herbert's shoulders at times, but he made the shore.

He collapsed after telling of his brother's predicament, and Sunday night was reported recovering from bad cuts about the legs caused by wading through ice. His brother was brought ashore suffering from cold.

22 Journalists Elected To Swedish Parliament

Stockholm.—There is only one lawyer but twenty-two newspaper men in the new Swedish Parliament, which meets for the first time January 10.

Farmers are the most numerous, with a membership of ninety-three out of 230, and five are farm workers. One of the newly elected Socialists is a politician. Four deputies are women, one a Conservative, the others Socialists. The trade unions are represented by nine of their officials, while only four are manufacturers. Eighteen are industrial workers and eleven either collier or railroad employees. Nine are either college professors, school teachers or clergymen. Other categories with small representation are army officers, business men, office employees, craftsmen, public officials and civil engineers.

Italy Pledges Water For Peace in Tripoli

Mis. Oasis of Giarra, Tripoli.—Water as the reward of peace has been promised to the warlike tribes of this desert region.

"I have made you the greatest possible gift," said Marshal Pietro Badoglio, Italy's governor of Libya, in a speech here. "I have established peace in all Tripoli. Now I will have a great well dug to give you plenty of water."

A long ruinous rebellion was put down by Italian arms last year.

Hamilton Infant Saved From Flames

Almost Asphyxiated by Smoke, Baby Boy Rescued

Hamilton.—Rescued from a smoke-filled room by a fire officer when a blaze broke out in his home Sunday afternoon while his parents were away, Karl Waldron, the one-year-old child of Samuel and Mrs. Waldron, 39 Ferguson Avenue north, had a narrow escape.

According to information supplied by fire department officials, the babe was left in the care of a five-year-old lad. The boy had been playing on the street for some time before the fire, and was unaware of the trouble until the fire apparatus arrived.

Informed of the infant's presence in the house, District Chief Holtrum rushed to the bedroom above the flaming kitchen and returned with the babe. The child was in a rather serious condition, having inhaled quantities of the dense smoke, but was reported out of danger tonight. The fire, the origin of which was not ascertained, gutted the kitchen and then spread to a garage at the rear, causing a total loss of $200.

Woman Rescues Boy From Police Dog

Hamilton.—Pitifully fighting a vicious police dog, Mrs. H. Upstall, 606 King Street west, probably saved the life of four-year-old Charles Balke, 604 1/2 King Street west, late Sunday afternoon.

While the marling animal clawed its little victim, Mrs. Upstall grabbed it with her bare hands, overpowered it by choking it, and held it while Mrs. Peter Chouman, the aged grandmother of the boy, carried the little fellow into his home.

Young Balke's right arm was terribly torn and tooth marks were visible on other parts of the body. Dr. C. T. McCabe cared for the boy at his home. His condition was said to be fair.

The boy had been playing in the front yard of his home, and was attacked there.

The animal was taken to the city pound and will be destroyed. The head will be sent to Toronto for examination.

Belle River Man Weds Almost Mile to Aid Brother

Windsor.—Herbert Taylor of Belle River wedded three-quarters of a mile and broke ice for 100 yards in Lake St. Clair to get aid for his brother, Ernest, marooned on a wooden motorboat.

May weather prevented their plight from being seen from the shore. The water was up to Herbert's shoulders at times, but he made the shore.

He collapsed after telling of his brother's predicament, and Sunday night was reported recovering from bad cuts about the legs caused by wading through ice. His brother was brought ashore suffering from cold.

Dominion's Production Of Autos Up 25 P.C.

Production of motor vehicles in Canada at 2.22 units in October marked an improvement of 25 per cent. over the total of 2,343 cars made in the previous month and was more than double the corresponding total of 1,100 cars reported for October of a year ago.

The increase over September was wholly accounted for by passenger cars advancing in number to 2,261 from 1,711, this gain being more than sufficient to offset the decline in trucks to 642 from 661. Of the October output only 81 cars were made for sales in this country, the balance of 2,232 being for export.

102,225,400 Lbs. Sugar Imported From Empire

Ottawa.—Raw sugar imports in October amounted to 102,225,400 pounds, emanating entirely from the following British Empire countries: Australia, 26,187,500; British South Africa, 32,474,000; Fiji Islands, 21,259,000; British Guiana, 12,351,000; British West Indies, 5,737,900 (Barbadoes 4,204,000 and Jamaica 1,533,900). The import in October, 1931, was 99,171,000 pounds.

Canada's 903,500 pound export of refined sugar in October went to the following countries: Newfoundland, 761,500 pounds; British Honduras, 95,000; British West Indies, 21,000; British Guiana, 2,100; Japan, 300; Alaska 200 and St. Pierre 100.

Snowfall

Now at the end of this dark day that held silence and lowering skies Close to its dun-colored hills— Come this herring surprise.

Snow-white leopards surging together, Boasting with paw padded and furry, From jammerable caves Sweep the hills—

What kingdom shall it name white parks, These creatures soft, gentle and bold Crowding at gates and doors With frosty breath so sweet and cold? —Duff Langland Hedberg.

Russia and Rubber

Early in 1931 Stalin boasted that the Soviet Union possessed every source of natural wealth except rubber and predicted that rubber would also be available within a year. A two. The recent opening of a synthetic rubber factory in Voronezh following the erection of a similar plant in Jarkov, represents an attempt to realize Stalin's prediction. The Russian natural scientist Mr. S. V. Lebedev, is the inventor of the new manufacturing process, which is known to be based on the use of alcohol, although its details are still secret. A similar invention had been made in Germany during the war, but was abandoned as uneconomical. Under the Soviet system of state-controlled economic existence, internal costs of production are largely disregarded, provided that a new invention frees the country from the necessity of spending foreign currency on imports.

What Soviets Chiefly Read

The Soviet Union in 1931 spent over $1,000,000 on foreign books. Most of this sum was applied to the purchase of natural scientific and technical works. Books on such cultural subjects as fiction, art, music, poetry and biography were reduced to a negligible minimum, as may be judged from the following figures regarding the distribution of the imported books: technical and precise sciences, 65 per cent; economics and politics, 16 per cent; agriculture, 11 per cent; medicine, 4 per cent; miscellaneous, 3 per cent. This absence of opportunity to purchase and read new books on cultural themes is one factor which emphasizes Russia's isolation from the intellectual and aesthetic life of the West.

Cavemen Tools and Old Gold

The construction of Dneproprostroi the huge hydro-electric power station which was recently opened in Ukraine, turned up some interesting archaeological by-products. Over 150,000 ancient tools, some of which are believed to date back 25,000 years, were unearthed during the digging. Along with the primitive tools of prehistoric cavemen the builders of Dneproprostroi found or in 2000 B.C. or thereabouts. These included, together with swords, axes of mail, lances and other warlike relics of the wild Eneolithic Cossacks who held sway in this part of the country in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

Prologue to Politics

An unofficial amnesty has been accorded to the works of the Russian composer and pianist, Sergei Rachmaninoff. Up to the present season they had been barred, apparently because Rachmaninoff was a Russian and is not regarded as friendly to the Soviet regime. Now, however, the ban has been lifted and Rachmaninoff's works figure prominently in the early concerts of the season. Simultaneously a plan has been ruled for a more generous rendition of the compositions of Scriabin, whose works have been characterized as "defeatist" and inconsistent with Communist ideology by doctrinaire Communist critics who insist on up to political standards to music.

Philatelists, Take Notice

The Soviet postal authorities have worked out a five-year plan for stamps. The stamps, issued in every year from 1933 until 1937, will commemorate a number of men and events. So the 1933 stamps will print devices devoted to Karl Marx, to the tenth anniversary of the Soviet Constitution, and to the Spartakiade, or athletic meet, which will be held in Moscow. Stamps of 1934 will deal with the tenth anniversary of the passing of Lenin, the sixtieth anniversary of the establishment of the World Postal Union and Russia's first subway, part of which is expected to be completed by that time. In 1937, the stamps will show the twentieth anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution, and will commemorate such figures as the poets Pushkin and Nekrasov.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Another View of China

Dr. E. J. Dillon in The Fortnightly Review (London), declares that the Chinese nation is fast going to pieces. Manchuria is already a separate State, Tibet has only needed, but has risen in arms against the elusive "Central Government" without a formal declaration of war, according to the abridged rite of today. Tibetan troops have occupied H. Kant and the contiguous regions. A Tibetan Empire is being formed under the Dalai Lama. The provinces of Szechuan and Kiangsi have embraced Communism and set up for themselves under a Sovietist Government. Yunnan is semi-independent. The thriving Province of Szechuan is misgoverned by a junta of half-a-dozen rolicking generals, who recognize no authority but their own. In short, the wretched State which occupies

Following the degree work at the regular meeting of Grimsby chapter, No. 68 Royal Arch Masons, on Monday evening, Prof. Leon Hansen, of Niagara Falls, presented Comp. Walter Foster with an autographed copy of his book, The Life of Evangelists. Messrs. Reeve Wilkins of Grimsby, town clerk G. O. Bourne, Assessor E. J. Muir and town solicitor McCoskie were in attendance at the hearing of the appeal of the township of Calver against the equalized assessment set by the county before Judge Campbell on Tuesday. The hearing was adjourned to December 10th.

BOY INJURED

Running out between two parked cars directly in front of a west-bound automobile, four-year-old Ronnie Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Robertson was on Saturday morning injured about the head when struck by a car on Main St. near Depot St. He was taken to the office of Dr. Gordon A. Sinclair for treatment.

MAYOR BOULTER

member of the town council and two years ago was honored by his election by acclamation to the highest office in the gift of the citizens, being re-elected Mayor in 1932. As Mayor he was also a member of the Water Commission, the Board of Health and the Library Board.

In the discharge of his duties Mayor Boulter has been both efficient and diligent and has commanded the general high respect not only of his associates on the various civic bodies but of citizens in general. He has presided over the deliberations of the council with commendable tact and judgment. He has expedited the transaction of business while in the chair, the sessions of the council having been characterized by the harmonious working together of the members.

Citizens will much regret the decision of Mayor Boulter to retire from municipal life. It being generally acknowledged that he has filled the responsible positions he has held with general acceptance, having always shown himself devoted to the town's best interests. Capable and genial in the discharge of his duties, he retires from office with the goodwill and respect of all classes in the community.

Two Accidents Occur On Highway

Last week Kitchen Maswell, 17-year-old hitch hiker of 1136 Third Avenue, Owen Sound, sustained lacerations and bruises to the head, when hit by a motor car in charge of Robert D. Forbes, 1512 Pierce Avenue, Niagara Falls, N.Y. The accident occurred on the highway near the Fairview Gas station. Momentarily blinded by glaring headlights of an approaching car, Mr. Forbes said he did not see the youth walking on the highway until it was too late to avoid hitting him. Maswell was attended by Dr. Clendenen, of Windsor, later taken to the Hamilton General Hospital. Provincial Constable Ed. Jean investigated. Forbes was taken to the St. Catharines police station but was later released.

REEVE WILKINS

pays 50 per cent. and the municipality 50 per cent. ensuring a substantial saving to the town. The provincial act is now being strictly adhered to. Under the old plan the county paid the entire account and municipalities were assessed on the equalized assessment basis which was paid through the county rate.

Reeve Wilkins as a member of the town and county councils, has been zealous in the discharge of his municipal duties and has taken a very active part in fostering and promoting undertakings for the advantage of the town and district.

He has proven a capable representative of the town on the county council where he has been keenly alert to the interests of the municipality, taking a leading part in the discussions on the problems which arose. During the past year he has been head of the Committee on Education. Reeve Wilkins states that it is expected that during the coming year something will develop along educational lines that will be of financial benefit to Grimsby. While many will regret to see him relinquish the reeve'ship which he has so well filled they feel that he has well earned the honor associated with the highest office in the gift of the citizens of Grimsby.

Funds From Christmas Seals Are Used To Combat Tuberculosis

Tuberculosis is ever with us. Yearly it takes its toll and mainly from our young citizens whose lives are most valuable to the community.

In the Niagara peninsula since 1910 the number of deaths from this dread disease has been reduced by two-thirds. A series of factors has been responsible for this astounding reduction. Among these have been improved living conditions, the building of sanatoria and last, but not least, the examination of contacts of cases of tuberculosis, in order to discover the disease before it has reached an advanced stage.

People have no knowledge of the nature of this disease until it has entered their own home, or has blighted the life of some one near and dear to them, and it is a matter for thankfulness that this knowledge is becoming less widespread because of the decrease in the disease. Thousands of people are infected and a smouldering agitation, such as insufficient food, over-work and exposure. These measures are ahead in this period of depression and, like the fire-fighter, people must be ready at the first signal of danger.

Christmas seals were offered to you last year. Some of the money raised provided cheer for needy tuberculosis families; a portion of it was used to buy necessities for these homes. The money to supply a nurse to visit the tuberculosis home of the district in an effort to educate these people so that they will live in such a manner as to prevent a lightening-up of their existing disease and to have clothing for these people.

Many who gave willingly in other years find it impossible this year to buy their stamps. It is therefore, doubly imperative that those who are in a position to give should double or triple their subscription in order that this good work may be carried on.

Dundas Loses $600 In Taxes

The Dundas court of revision has struck off the assessment of $14,000 made against the Ontario Hydro-Electric commission, it being the assessment on wires, poles, etc., and the equipment of the Cataract Electric Company. The Ontario commission pays taxes on land only and so Dundas loses $600 in taxes on this item.

Young Hamilton Boy Is Nearly Fatally Bitten By Ferocious Police Dog

But for the heroic intervention of a woman neighbor, Charlie Baidie, a young boy, of 668½ King street west, Hamilton, might have been fatally bitten by a ferocious police dog in the front yard of his home Sunday afternoon. As it was, his right arm was severely torn by the dog, and he was unconscious when rescued.

The boy was playing in the yard when the dog, described as a mongrel police dog, ran toward him and snarled. Before the child could retreat, the powerful beast jumped upon him, knocking him down and straddling him, biting furiously. The dog sank its long teeth into a fleshy part of the child's right arm and tore the flesh severely.

Hearing the child's screams, Mrs. H. Upstill, who lives next door, proved the heroine. She rushed to the yard and, despite the fact that the dog turned upon her, she attacked it with her bare hands, grabbed it by the neck, and held its head pinion to the ground. Mrs. Peter Chiesman, grandmother of Charlie, rushed from the house and dragged the boy clear of the dog's jaws and then carried him into the house. Other neighbors had come by this time and the dog was held fast until the police arrived and took it to the pound.

Dr. Charles McCabe was summoned and dressed the child's wounds. Neighbors said that if Mrs. Upstill had not rushed to the child's aid when she did, the dog would soon have killed the boy.

Mrs. H. A. Yenny, returned, following a few days spent in Toronto last week, where her daughter, Miss Lillian Yenny underwent an operation, which proved much more serious than was expected. Her friends will be pleased to know she is recovering very nicely.

Last Thursday there were two more boys' basketball games. Miss Fikow's team (A) played Erie Cornwell's team (C) and won by a score of 30 - 6.

In the junior game John Wisniewski's team (E) defeated Fraser Morris' team (G) by a score of 19 - 14.

These games are certainly crammed with action. The local school will not miss rugby until the boys league is finished. Never-the-less the boys are shaping up nicely and are improving steadily.

One thing is obvious, C. H. S. certainly should have better boys' teams this year than last. Mr. Wood is to be congratulated on the work he is putting on athletics and we hope him success.

Tuesday, Dec. 6, two more games were played. Team B was victor over team D with a score of 19 - 14. Team H took team F for a ride with a 18 - 9 win.

These games were rather loosely run as most of the other games have been. It is impossible to have rugby players play basketball and not have charging, blocking and like offences.

Wednesday, Dec. 7, saw the completion of the Ekama. Now everybody is waiting patiently (?) for the results. Afraid of the worst but praying for the best.

On Wednesday Miss Chase stated there would be no inter-school basketball game the coming Friday in denial of a current rumour. There will be one a week from Friday, however, with St. Catharines at the local school gym.

Lesson 11, Dec. 11. The Christian use of leisure. What a man does when he is free to do as he pleases may make or mar the man. Multitudes in our generation are coming into an inheritance of increased leisure without knowing how to use it. In most lands the twelve hour day is disappearing and the five day working week is being considered. There is the problem of how to use profitably the hours that are not spent in regular employment. There is the problem of the right way to enjoy rest and recreation. Timely indeed is the study of the Christian use of leisure, and of God's happy solution of these problems. —1st. Corinthians, Chap. 16.

CASE WAS DISMISSED BY THE MAGISTRATE

Holding that the action under which a charge of rebating an insurance premium was ultra vires, Magistrate Burdige dismissed the charge against Carl J. Jennings, of Hamilton.

The magistrate said that there was ample evidence to bring the accused within the meaning of the action. The rebate of $63 was covered by an endorsement, but there were one or two questions of law brought up by counsel at the trial which had to be settled. The first was that of inducement. This inducement was probably the low premium, but the low premium was reached by means of a sort of discount. Regarding the question whether the parliament of Canada had power to legislate against rebates such as the one in question, the magistrate said that there was no doubt in his mind that the action was ultra vires.

MRS. LENA GREEN

Consistent James M. Wentworth and Mrs. Wentworth will have the deepest sympathy of many friends in the sad bereavement suffered through the passing of their daughter, Mrs. Lena Green who died at the General Hospital, Hamilton, on Thursday, December 1st, after a lengthy illness. She was in her 36th year being born in Grimsby in 1897. She is survived by two daughters, Lois and Jean; her parents; one brother, Marvin (Cyclone) Westworth, of the Montreal Maroons; and two sisters, Miss Eleanor Westworth, of Toronto, and Mrs. H. H. Bristol, in Lynwood, Cal. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon from her parents' residence, Grimsby, to Queen's Lawn cemetery. Rev. J. A. Ballard, of St. Andrew's Anglican church, conducted the service at the home and at the graveside. The pall bearers were: Lloyd - George McKay, Wilfred Carver, Gordon Lawson, Roy Soule and Percy Francis.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MRS. KITCHEN

Fellow citizens and friends in large numbers gathered at the funeral of the late Mrs. Kitchen, Main St. East, on Thursday afternoon last to pay their last tribute to a highly regarded citizen. Rev. E. A. Earchman, pastor of Trinity United Church of which she was a member, conducted the service. Many beautiful floral tributes surrounded the casket. Interment took place in Queen's Lawn cemetery. The pall bearers were: G. H. McConachie, David Allen, A. E. Howard, G. M. Beamer, J. H. Brown and C. W. F. Carpenter.

JOSIAH WADGE

The death occurred at Smithville on Thursday last of Josiah Wadge, brother of Richard Wadge, Harvey Wadge and Mrs. Peter Fokker, Grimsby. Deceased succumbed after a brief illness of pneumonia. He was in his 71st year. He had lived all his life on the farm. He leaves two sons, Harry in Smithville and Harley, with whom he lived; one granddaughter and two grandsons; a sister Mrs. Albert Speck, Jordan Station. He was a member of Smithville Masonic Lodge, the Eastern Star. Pall bearers were Fred Boulter, Robert Book, Amos Schick, John E. Lymburner, Frank Haynes and John Patterson. Interment was in Grace church cemetery.

$150,000 Fire In Hamilton On Saturday

Fire of unknown origin broke out on Saturday night in the premises of Wilkinson-Kompass Limited, wholesale hardware, 30 MacNab Street E., Hamilton, and did damage estimated at $150,000. Davis-Limon Limited printers, who occupy a portion of the building, suffered heavy damage from smoke and water.

The two upper floors and the roof of the building were gutted, and the blaze proved a stubborn one by reason of the large quantities of paint, oil and like materials stocked in the ware house.

The fire was discovered about 9 o'clock on Saturday night by Fireman John Cusick, who was passing the building, and saw flames on the upper floors. When firemen reached the scene the fire was blazing savagely and a fairly brisk wind was prevailing. After a heroic struggle, the firemen, however, succeeded in checking the flames, and thereby saved adjoining properties.

Men Were Re-Arrested After Being Discharged

Charles Thompson, Elmer Kimball and William Olmstead, Brantford, who have been in custody at St. Catharines, following their discharge at Simcoe on charges of theft of poultry and immediately re-arrested and then brought to that city to answer to alleged theft of a like nature were remanded again in Friday's police court by Magistrate Campbell, upon the request of Crown Attorney Lancaster. The offences which they allegedly committed was the theft of 34 barred rock fowl from the premises of Wallace Goldring of Clinton Township on October 19th, which fowl were later identified by the owner at Hamilton, when sold to a poultry dealer.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement is announced of Jessie Lillian, daughter of Mr. E. V. Well, and the late Mrs. E. V. Well, of Hamilton, Ont., to Miss E. Warner, Long Island, N. Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Warner, Naughton farm, Grimsby, the marriage to take place quietly early in January.

If you Really want a small Business say nothing about it!

Retailers who don't want a bigger business should say nothing about it, for, if they began talking about it in the form of advertisements, they would get new customers whose requirements would just distribute them — would compel them to buy more, deliver more, work more.

There's a story told about a retailer who certainly didn't want a big business. He was playing checkers with a croupy in some place of hiding in the rear portion of his store. A customer entered. The croupy said, "There's Mrs. Black." "Hush," said the retailer, "If we don't make a noise, perhaps she'll go away!"

The way to a bigger business is as plain as the nose on one's face; it is customer multiplication. A retailer with an urge toward bigger things should give his main thought and effort to customer multiplication.

Some retailers can never hope to have a big business even if they wanted one — they lack the ability, the energy, the ambition, the understanding needed to make a big business. They are content with a small business, and would be really unhappy if their business was growing rapidly as a consequence of circumstances outside their control. They would feel like a man in a wagon whose horses were running away with it!

Some retailers, however, have an urge to make their business larger. They dream of the time when they will have one big store, or a flock of 'chain' stores. They want a much bigger income than their present one. Perhaps they dream of a time when they won't have to work, when they will have much leisure to be spent pitching horseshoes, or in bowling, or in travelling, or with looks, or in a country home.

Customer attraction can be accomplished variously, but there is one essential means — press advertising. Advertisements go where personal salesmen and even letters can't hope to go, and they have a profound influence on readers of them — they soften resistance, dissolve apathy, create confidence and goodwill, and direct the steps of buyers. And they are cheap! And buyers — not sellers — pay for them, and are glad to pay for them! Buyers always go, in largest numbers, and of their own free will, to the store that spends a lot of money on an advertising.

Why should any ambitious retailer hesitate to contract for advertising which his customers will pay for gladly?

SYNOPSIS

Annexed West House's Home in Connecticut, according to the condition of the lease. The first week of the private burial ground is opened, her body is being moved. She is the first night he is killed. Ann and her housekeeper fly for aid to Dr. Cranston across the clearing. Ann sticks in the mud and is rescued by a stranger, who disappears. The newspaper tells the story as "Two Deaths in Twenty-Four Hours."

In fact, the office was still in an uproar when Cropley had left it at six o'clock that morning, and the only possible reason he could think of for all the excitement on Diamond's part was that the red-headed Miss West was just as determined to remain at Bride's House now as she had been before.

Well, women were funny creatures. The longer you knew them the less you understood them. Thank God, he'd had the sense to remain a bachelor all his life! Take the occasion in hand, for example. The fact didn't live who could run up a vacation for him. How many married men could say as much?

Cropley perched a fly rod. By the way, that Terhune fellow hadn't called up the office. Must have had the better hours ago too. Special deliveries were delivered on Sunday, or in the middle of the night, for that matter. But hell, if the architect didn't care enough about his ex-client to find out whether she was alive or dead, that was nobody's business but his own.

The next thing that went into the bag was a box of fishing tackle. Those spoons were going to be good for bait. The man in the sporting-goods house had said they would hold a twelve-pound—But was it nobody's business? Miss West was not the sort of girl who ought to be let down by a man at a time like this. Were the circumstances reversed and Mr. Gatey Terhune in danger, no one would have had to write to her. She'd have been there at his side, fighting like a wild-cat. Yes, whatever fault the red-headed kid might have, a lack of loyalty was not one of them.

The manager of the Daily Free Press moved a little uncertainly toward the bed where his clothes lay in neat piles all ready to go into the suitcase. Was he going to need one sweater or two? Surely that light sweater would be enough—with a leather jacket. But then, the nights in Canada were always cool. Especially on Lake Winnipeg. He decided to take both sweaters.

If this West girl had a valid reason for staying in the haunted Runnells house—and by this time there could be no doubt but that she had—it was a safe bet she'd stick till a certain well-known winter resort from over. Ill-advised and plucky? Hang it all, a man couldn't help but admire such gameness. Especially a man who'd over done any one fishing.

Laying aside the hip boots with which he had been toying, Cropley reached for the telephone book. After he had found what he wanted:

"Give me Plans 22303. I said 203 not 223. What's the matter with you? Has the hot weather affected your hearing or I beg your pardon."

A female voice at the other end of the wire had remarked somewhat tartly: "This is Plans 22303. And my car is quite all right, thank you."

"My mistake. I am trying to get Mr. Gatey Terhune's apartment. Must have given me the wrong number."

Said the voice, then tartly: "This is Mr. Terhune's apartment. What do you want?"

"So that's how the cat jumped! Granted Cropley to himself. Aloud, "I'd like to speak with Mr. Terhune, if I may."

"Well, you mayn't," came the prompt reply. "He isn't here. Then, in more conciliatory tone, "And if you've got any idea where he is, I wish you'd tell me, because I haven't seen anything of him since night before last."

Cropley waited a moment before he asked, "And who are you—if that's not an impertinent question?"

There was something which sounded like a sinner. "I'm just a friend visiting Mr. Terhune for a day or two."

Cropley hoped, rather grimly, that she was having a nice time.

ward, the foot proved efficacious. In less than six months Miss Malvina was back in Connecticut again, sad, wiser, and humbler to the extent that she was willing at last to take her stepmother's advice and turn the old family home into a tea and gift shop.

Of that excursion into art, however, not all was lost. Instead of canvas, the walls of the Apple Blossom received the outpourings of their owner's thwarted soul in murals that gradually spread from floor to ceiling. Extraordinary coverings of velvet and butterscotch. Humming birds that resembled in size and spread of wing the American eagle. A pair of Pouter Chantrelles female dancing over what looked like a forest of tomato plants. That crazy Upstrove house, the neighbors called it; but of late the young intelligentsia driving out to tea and dinner had seen fit to set the seal of their approval upon it, and the place enjoyed a certain vogue. Nor was its popularity undeserved. For, in addition to the decorations, the food was such as only Miss Malvina knew how to cook and serve.

Who Wants Fog?

London's "Worst Ever" Lasted from November to the Following February

The latest achievement of science in Soviet Russia is the manufacture of artificial fog in a Leningrad laboratory, writes London "Answers." It is one which will arouse no enthusiasm outside Russia. To Leningrad fog is Dame Nature's prodigious act—enough, or rather, too much.

The popular superstition is that the benediction of coal greets would eliminate the fog menace.

As it happens, that isn't true. Fog is prevalent in the country, no well in town, and it would still occur even if coal fires were abolished. It is caused in a variety of ways, one of the most frequent being the sudden cooling of the air that is saturated with invisible water vapour. Part of this vapour then takes visible form, and tiny drops or particles of water become suspended in the air.

Actually, then, a fog is a cloud that has formed on ground level, instead of in the sky. And the water in it is quite sufficient to blanket out the surroundings, without any assistance from smoke or soot.

November is the worst month of the year for fogs in Britain's big cities. After this month is over, the number of fog declines gradually until the middle of February. But at least once in 1870—London experienced a winter of almost continuous fog. It started in the beginning of November, and lasted practically until February, 1930.

Another such winter is not likely to occur again. And even when the weather forecast predicts "fog," things may not be quite so bad as they sound. Officially, it is a fog if you can't see a house or tree against the sky at a distance of 1,000 metres.

That's a good bit over a thousand yards, so the condition might easily be fulfilled without pedestrians, or even motorists, being unduly worried.

And at sea November is one of the darkest months of the year—the worst time for ocean ships in spring and summer.

A first lamp blazes in the rainy-gray night; Trees shimmer in the moist silver, misty and cool. Meadows fall—over the low roof at light. Fetter of rain, is music, quiet and beautiful.

—Carl Edwin Burkhead, in "The Oregon"

Superstitious?

Are you superstitious? Do you, for instance, avoid walking under a ladder? If so, do you know why it is said to be unlucky? This is the reason given by Sir Charles Lyell in "These Superstitions."

"The dread of passing under a ladder has been looked upon by many in a material sense—the avoidance of anything falling from the hands of the painter, the bricklayer, or the man with the hod when ascending the ladder—but the superstition arises from the fact that when the ladder leans against the wall it forms a triangle, and is thus a symbol of the Trinity. The ordinary layman of olden days would, therefore, consider himself debased from passing through this sacred 'gch'."

THE SUPERSTITIOUS THIEF. A Scotland Yard detective once gave Sir Charles an extraordinary example of the ladder superstition. A thief who was being chased "suddenly found that he had passed under a ladder. Although the police were close upon him he turned quickly, came back under the ladder, and then rushed into the road to pass it. This delay was fatal. He was caught and his remark, ironically uttered, was: 'Well, it's better to be caught than have had luck all my life.'"

Possibly he did not know that all would have been well if he had crossed his fingers after passing under the ladder—some people say you should keep them crossed until you see a dog! This same detective told Sir Charles that most criminals are superstitious, and that few well-considered crimes, such as burglaries, take place on a Friday.

SIR MALCOLM THE FATALIST. Sir Charles once asked Sir Malcolm Campbell whether he was superstitious. Sir Malcolm said that he wasn't, but added that he believed in luck, and was a fatalist. He said that "every time he started on a speed trial he felt that Fate had already determined if it should be his lot. Nothing could make him swerve from the feeling that his end was foretold. Nobody who has passed close to the valley of death could believe otherwise. 'But I am no fatalist,' he added. 'When I cross the street I look on either side. Before driving my car I personally inspect every bit of the machinery.'"

IRVING AND THE PEACOCK FEATHER

The Stage, even today, possesses all kinds of strange superstitions. Whistling, says Sir Charles, is barred in most dressing-rooms, and stage first night happens to be on a Friday, actors and actresses stay out of their dressing-rooms lest first night! A peacock's feather in a theatre is regarded with horror. "And Sir Henry Irving once caused a sensation by sending a peacock feather to a lady in the stalls at the close of the first act of 'Othello.' On 'his slip of paper he wrote 'For God's sake take your peacock feather fan out of the theatre to prevent disaster.' The good lady meekly called an attendant and handed her the fan. But the girl drew back in horror. The lady herself, rather than make a scene, went to the entrance of the theatre and threw her fan into the road."

As a contrast to Irving there is a story of Lord Roberts and the superstition about the ill-luck that follows a dinner party of thirteen people. He tried to tell how

"he and twelve brother officers dined together just before the Afghan War, and, although they fought in that campaign, all were alive eleven years after."

COURTING BAD LUCK.

Some of those who read this book will find that they have been courting and luck all their lives. If a girl sits on a table while talking to a man she will never be married. A girl is also running the risk of spinsterhood should she fail to look towards the north when she goes out of the house before breakfast. If you trip when going upstairs it means a wedding, for the reason, the bride or bridegroom being the next single person to follow the tripper."

Again, if when dressing you place a button into the wrong buttonhole it will bring bad luck, just as looking the wrong eye is disastrous. Should either of these accidents occur, however, you can ward off ill-luck by taking off the garment and putting it on anew."

Sir Charles tells us that Le came across a curious old Scottish custom which is said to bring good luck to a bride and bridegroom. During the present year a Scottish gentleman was to be married at Edinburgh, and friends on the eve of the wedding went to his house and the bride and bridegroom were stretched full length upon the floor, their feet made bare, and then covered with oatmeal blurring. Afterwards they were recommended to stand up and receive similar treatment to their feet."

Afterwards the same ceremony was carried out with the best man and the bride-maid. An equally odd custom in a Staffordshire family was for a bridegroom to take his young wife

An Understanding of Children

From very early college days began to emerge that beautiful side of Lewis Carroll's character which afterwards was to be, next to his fame as an author, the one for which he was best known—his attitude towards children, and the strong attraction they had for him. I shall attempt to point out the various influences which led him in this direction; but if I were asked for one comprehensive word wide enough to explain this tendency of his nature, I would answer unhesitatingly—love.

I think children appealed to him because he was pre-eminently a teacher, and he saw in their unspoiled minds the best material for him to work upon. In later years one of his favorite recreations was to lecture at schools on fairy tales, and to give personal attention to each of his pupils, and one can well imagine what eager anticipation the children must have felt when they saw him.

Many who gave willingly in other ways, find it impossible this year to give their stamps. It is therefore doubly imperative that those who are in a position to give should do so, for the trouble their subscription is ordered found to be the best on that this good work may be carried on.

The Ontario commission says taxes on land only and so Dundas loans $600 in taxes on this item.

From a Chinese Junk. It was raining when the ship slid out from under the eaves of Great Hong Kong. Hong Kong is like the great shadow of a Chinese temple upon the sky. Its corner is nearly always ruled straight by a high horizontal cloud, its slopes have the optimistic convexity of temples, and only lack a titanic dragon and a curled lion or two to make the temple suggestion complete. At night, so absurdly is Hong Kong tilted, it seems its outline, the lights of the peak climb as high and the stars so low.

But it was morning when my little ship softly extricated herself from the shadows and ships in the harbor. . . . At last Hong Kong itself was dim and faces of silver cloud blew across the great harbor and obscured the tops of the great hills of the New Territory.

When Hong Kong slipped over the gray glass of the sea, the Chang-shing seemed all alone like a great at a strange deserted island. A great company of remote islands stood about her and, without welcome, watched her pass. I have never been so much alone on a ship before. . . . The Chang-shing carried only indulgent and courteous—me, she was only smart in comparison with some of the junks. And perhaps in order to show herself to advantage for the first two days of her voyage, north she rolled, smarting proudly up the rough ribs of a sinuous avenue of junks. . . .

China, with hills full of red and green blackly white, lay by us to the west. There was never a sign of life on the coast, and, at night, never a light. We passed a lighthouse on the third day; white and sophisticated it sprang up in a lonely dreary world. A man waved from it. Could it be a man? How terrible the sea must count!

The Chang-shing is a small boat, not as big as a ship, but as big as a boat. It is a great company of remote islands stood about her and, without welcome, watched her pass. ## Here and There

Over 100,000 lbs. of oysters are exported annually from Canada, principally to Germany and the United States. They are caught along the lower St. Lawrence River and off the Atlantic Coast.

A total of $44,125 radio receiving licenses have been issued by the Canadian Government Radio Branch from April 1 to September 30, 1932, or approximately one to every eighteen persons of the population of the Dominion.

A movie theatre has been installed on R. M. & A. on its Australasian run and passengers had the first entertainment in that line on a recent voyage. This is the first ship to reach Vancouver carrying sound movie equipment.

China's first woman barrister, Mrs. Lu Hoon Kim Teo, was among the passengers aboard the Empress of Russia, recently sailing from Vancouver. Mrs. Hoon obtained her legal training in England and is attached to the Hong Kong bar.

The Canadian people seem to have developed a considerable taste for macaroni, vermicelli, spaghetti and the like Italian food preparations. Output of 14 Canadian factories in 1931 was 29,311,425 pounds as compared with 16,919,925 lbs. in 1926.

With Remembrance Day in our minds, it is timely to recall the brief epitome of Canada's part in the war inscribed on a tablet in the House of Parliament at Ottawa:—"Six hundred twenty-eight thousand, six hundred forty-two bore the badge of Canada in the Great War; sixty thousand six hundred sixty-one met death and passed on."

Good hunting is reported from the Bates Camp, near Matagami, Ontario, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, seventy miles east of Sudbury. Moose and deer are very numerous close to the camp and in one morning a couple of U. S. hunters secured a fine bull moose and a deer. They killed to the limit of their license within a few days.

A free scholarship to be held at L'Escole Polytechnique of the University of Montreal, offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway to minor sons of employees of the railway, was awarded to J. P. Levesque, 15-year-old son of Eugene Levesque, chief clerk at the Mile End Station. The award entitles to five years study proceeding to the degree of Bachelor of Civil Engineering.

Canadian Pacific Railway low rate return bargain excursions, a highly popular feature of the railway's operation since February last, have been and will be well maintained up to the end of the year. Outstanding recently have been the trip to Chicago from Montreal and the shorter trips into and out of the major cities from and to the surrounding provinces. The rate and a quarter fare for return trips during the Remembrance Day holiday were well patronized and this concession is again to be offered for the Christmas and New Year holidays. (374)

The Quebec Festival of French-Canadian Folk Lore and Handicrafts at which brilliant artists born and bred on the soil of Quebec province, and well-known artists from far and wide rival one another in recovering the spirit of Old France, and old New France and the age-old culture of the Galle race, will be held this year October 16-18, according to an announcement made by the Canadian Pacific Railway, organizers of the festival.

Arriving in two Canadian Pacific special trains, about 250 of the most eminent figures in the British medical world left Montreal for Winnipeg to attend the first convention of the British Medical Association held in Winnipeg. They were preceded by a group of 60 members of the British Tuberculosis Association, who attended a convention of tuberculosis specialists at Winnipeg, Manitoba, before going to Winnipeg.

In view of the fact that this is the last year in which Canada has a seat on the Council of the League of Nations, I could not resist the request made to me by the Prime Minister to represent the Dominion at Geneva," said Sir Robert Laird Borden, former Prime Minister of Canada, as he sailed for Europe recently aboard the Empress of Scotland.

Every activity of the Canadian Pacific Railway was stressed this year at the National Exhibition at Toronto, which was billed as the "W. W. Borden" exhibition, named in honor of the chairman and president of the board. An outstanding feature of the exhibition was the model of the new $3,500,000 Empress of Britain, greatest interior-luxury passenger vessel, launched by the Prince of Wales last June and to be in service between Quebec and Great Britain next year.

More than $100,000,000 will be spent in each of the next three years on power production now under development in Canada. Although there are other plans for important building projects, will have a more intimate bearing on the industrial development of Canada than these new power plants planned by the power industry.
